

2024 Strategic Plan

Rose Villa Ready Force

Introduction

This strategic plan document outlines the key goals, objectives, and actions Rose Villa's Ready Force will take in 2024 to improve our community's emergency response capabilities and promote resilience. It is intended to set the direction and priorities for the coming year, simplify decision-making, and communicate the plan to the Ready Force team and the community.

What is Ready Force? The Ready Force team comprises resident volunteers and a Rose Villa, Inc. (RVI) staff liaison. Its primary goal is to help independent living residents prepare for and respond to natural disasters. Specific activities include

1. Assisting Rose Villa in developing and updating emergency preparation plans.
2. Encouraging resident preparedness by developing and implementing training programs and exercises.
3. Advising and helping individual residents needing assistance preparing for and responding to emergencies.
4. Holding neighborhood meetings to encourage preparedness at the neighborhood level.

During an emergency, the Ready Force volunteers will self-organize and become an asset available to the Rose Villa Incident Command team. As with any emergency asset, the actual use of Ready Force will depend on the emergency and the number and capability of Ready Force volunteers available at the time of the incident.

History: Ready Force was established in 2016 by John Schallberger, the former Director of Facility Operations, along with Mary Eusterman and Jean Coberly, two CERT-trained residents. Their efforts focused on educating, training, and recruiting RV residents. Within a short period, 14 residents completed CERT training and devised emergency supply lists and procedures to present to RVI. The arrival of Steve and Karen Morris in 2019 injected fresh vigor into Ready Force's initiatives. Collaborating with fellow residents, the resident council, and RVI, they created the Rose Villa Emergency Response Guide, unveiled in 2021 and referred to as the Red Binder.

Beginning with the fire and smoke event in September 2020, Rose Villa has confronted a series of climate-related emergencies, including a winter ice storm in 2021 that led to an extended power outage, leaving residents without heat and home cooking facilities for nearly a week. In the summer of the same year, a severe heat dome pushed temperatures above 110 degrees.

These three events highlight the crucial need for a joint effort between Ready Force and RVI to ensure the well-being of our independent-living residents.

Ready Force has recently begun working with the Rose Villa Resiliency Action Plan (RAP) team as part of a 20+ year effort to address risks caused by natural disasters and climate change.

Vision and Mission

Vision: To create a resilient community where every independent living resident is informed, prepared, and readied to respond effectively to emergencies, subject to their abilities.

Mission: To train and mobilize resident volunteers into a well-equipped and coordinated force to assist during Rose Villa's disaster response and recovery.

Ready Force Structure

Executive Committee: The executive committee meets weekly to set the agenda and plan upcoming meetings and training events. Additionally, it meets regularly with its RVI staff liaison and is the primary point of contact with Oak Lodge CERT (OLCERT). The committee includes five members: Mary Eusterman, Louise Williams, Margaret Bell, Ed Gellenbeck, and Jean Lofy.

Steering Committee: The steering committee meets monthly to advise and assist in determining the direction and progress of Ready Force activities. Its membership draws from the more active Ready Force volunteers. As of the beginning of 2024, the steering committee comprises 12 members, including the five executive committee members.

Ready Force Volunteers: Ready Force volunteers are independent-living residents with a background or desire to learn basic CERT training. At the start of 2024, 38 residents comprise the Ready Force volunteers (including the steering committee members). We recognize that all these volunteers are seniors; consequently, some have mobility issues that could limit their deployment during an emergency. In addition, environmental situations, such as smoke emergencies and ice storms, may restrict deployment.

Neighborhoods: Ready Force divides the campus into 12 Ready Force neighborhoods, each with its own Ready Force neighborhood leader(s). Ready Force holds regularly scheduled neighborhood meetings to go through neighborhood-focused emergency response and to help neighbors share information about their emergency preparedness, such as supplies, skills, and equipment that might be helpful in an emergency or disaster situation.

Community: At the start of 2024, 346 independent-living residents reside at Rose Villa. For purposes of planning, training, and deployment, the Ready Force community does not include residents residing in the Madrona Grove Supportive Living neighborhood.

Resident Council: The Councilor representing the Safety and Preparedness functional area is responsible for raising concerns related to Ready Force, facilitating interactions between Ready Force and the Council, and acting as the Council's representative during Ready Force meetings. This Councilor assists with preparation, training, and coordination regarding community disaster response and resilience.

RVI Staff Liaison: RVI Senior management has designated Jim Willeford, Director of Strategic Operations, as the staff liaison to Ready Force. Mr. Willeford will serve as the Incident Commander during emergencies and coordinate all components during an emergency response, including directing the actions of the Ready Force volunteers. Ready Force encourages key RVI staff to receive basic CERT training to perform more effectively during emergencies.

Oak Lodge CERT: Rose Villa is within the Oak Lodge CERT (OLCERT) geographic area, which provides advice and training to Ready Force. Greg Wenneson serves as our OLCERT liaison.

Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats

Analysis of Ready Force's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats (SWOT) guided our strategic planning process.

Strengths: The Rose Villa community has a strong tradition of mutual assistance, as demonstrated by its response to three recent emergencies in the past three years. Ready Force has an established history within the community and benefits from the expertise of CERT-trained residents. Our collaboration with OLCERT and growing support from RVI are noteworthy. Additionally, our well-functioning radio network holds regular practice sessions, further strengthening our capabilities.

Weaknesses: The weaknesses identified include the ongoing challenge of volunteers aging out of active involvement in Ready Force, transitions within Ready Force leadership with Steve Morris stepping back from his leadership role, past changes in the RVI liaison role, and the need for more volunteers to undergo CERT training.

Opportunities: Promising opportunities include the development of a formal strategic plan, increased use of communication media for education and awareness within Rose Villa, collaboration with RAP and the Green Team, developing a strong partnership with the Resident Council through the councilor who represents the functional areas of preparedness and safety, advocating for CERT training for several RVI staff members, and benefiting from the extensive emergency management background of the RVI liaison Jim Willeford.

Threats: The rapid and catastrophic environmental effects of climate change pose an imminent threat to residents. Inadequate staff training or availability and inadequate essential emergency equipment & supplies could undermine preparedness efforts. Moreover, there is a tendency among residents and staff to underestimate the significance of survival preparation, which could hinder effective responses in critical situations.

Education and Training

Ready Force will focus on educating and training volunteers and the community in 2024.

CERT-Lite Training Curriculum: Collaborating with OLCERT, Ready Force developed and will deliver a comprehensive CERT-Lite training curriculum to its volunteers. This curriculum covers essential areas of CERT Basic Training, tailored to suit the specific needs of Ready Force, focusing on disaster preparedness and organization, disaster medical operations, including basic first aid, CPR, Stop The Bleed & AED, disaster psychology, fire safety, light search and rescue, and terrorism. The executive committee will design and use evaluation criteria to measure and improve the effectiveness of the CERT-Lite training.

Training Exercises and Drills: With guidance from the RVI staff liaison and OLCERT, Ready Force will develop and hold regular training exercises and drills throughout the year. These activities, designed for volunteers and the entire community, will focus on preparedness and response capabilities.

Volunteer Recruitment: Ready Force will actively recruit new volunteers during community events. These events will be opportunities to engage with potential volunteers and expand the team's capacity.

Equipment and Supplies Management

Another focus area for 2024 is to identify and obtain the resources required for the Ready Force program, including funding for equipment and supplies.

Inventory and Mapping: With the RVI staff, Ready Force steering committee members will conduct a comprehensive investigation to locate and document the storage locations and contents of all existing RVI and Ready Force emergency equipment and supplies.

Additional Needs: After creating a complete list of required Ready Force equipment and supplies, the steering committee will work collaboratively with RVI to identify and prioritize specific equipment and supply needs necessary for enhanced preparedness. Ready Force will work with the RVI staff liaison, RV Foundation grant(s), and OLCERT donations in obtaining the required supplies.

Annual ROSE Refresh Party: The steering committee will plan, organize, and host an annual community event called the "ROSE Refresh Party." This event will allow residents to expand their knowledge of emergency preparedness and inspect, maintain & update their emergency equipment, water, food, and medical supplies.
